Alumni Elect Jim Bill McInteer of Nashville As Distinguished Harding Alumnus Of Current Year

While Jim Bill McInteer was at Harding last month for the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Trustees, he was the subject of a most pleasant surprise. As a result of being voted Distinguished Alumnus of 1964 he received a copper-etched plaque containing this citation:

"In recognition of the high degree to which he exemplifies the ideals and aims of Harding College and in gratitude for his loyal support of the institution, especially as a member of its board of directors; for his outstanding service as an evangelist, Christian journalist and friend of Christian education, the Alumni Association presents this plaque, May 28, 1964."

McInteer, who is both minister of the West End Church of Christ in Nashville, Tenn., and business manager of 20th Century Christian, has been a member of the Harding Board since June, 1950. Both Mr. and Mrs. McInteer, the former Betty Bergner, of Isabel, Kansas hold B. A. degrees from Harding College — he of the Class of '42 and she of the Class of '43.

The Distinguished Alumnus Award was instituted in 1960 and is presented on the basis of spontaneous voting by alumni without prior nominations, therefore results are fully secret until announced on graduation day each year.

Previous recipients are L. O. Sanderson, evangelist and religious music composer; Dr. R. T. Clark, now research director at Harding; Dow Merritt, missionary in Africa; and Dr. George S. Benson, Harding president.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bill McInteer of Nashville, Tenn. display the Distinguished Alumnus plaque presented to McInteer on Alumni Day.

NOTICE

Marion Cawood (Acad. '59) will sing at the Republican National Convention July 15 in San Francisco at 1:30 p.m. EST. Miss Cawood will sing the "Star Spangled Banner" and "Italian Street Song."

Thanks To Ballot Committee

Opening, counting and tabulating hundreds of ballots in a couple of hours on graduation day is no small task. Our sincere thanks to Ben Porter (BA'60), Jim Eckerberg (BS'59), Dick Mock (BA'61), and Merlin Prior ('65) for assisting with this job.

New President Suggest Three Definite Goals

It is with some misgivings that I take up my pen to write to you as the president of the Harding Alumni Association. I have never served in such capacity before and find the unknown to be a bit frightening. I also realize how our association has grown in membership and am aware that spearheading a group of over seven thousand members will mean considerable work.

I do feel that an honor has been bestowed upon me by you. I hereby pledge to serve all of you to the very best of my ability. I feel sure that I can count on your help and cooperation.

While the job has its frightening aspects there are encouraging factors also. Dr. Evan Ulrey did an outstanding job during his three terms in office. Buford Tucker and his staff have the office set up and running smoothly. But most encouraging of all the factors are you, our alumni. When one contemplates working with those who have been to Harding and absorbed the fine things offered here, there can be only anticipation and pleasure over the prospect of directing the activities of this group.

I don't want to overlook our three vice-presidents. I am hoping that each of them will actively participate in our work and will feel free to write for the bulletin, make suggestions, and otherwise aid us in every way possible.

As I began my term I see three definite goals which need our attention. We must push our goal of $300,000 for the Greater Harding Development Program to its successful completion. Letters have been sent to all who have not yet contributed and we will continue our efforts until we have succeeded.

We must get wider and more regular participation in our annual alumni giving.

We can never be satisfied with less than one hundred percent participation in this area.

There must be an awakening among our alumni to the need for selling teenagers on Harding College — such as the St. Louis Chapter chartering two busses and bringing over eighty youngsters to our annual Senior Day activities. There is no better way to sell young people on Harding than to let them see our campus.

I have no magic solutions nor earth shaking proposals regarding the above goals. The solution for most problems is work and these goals demand plenty of work.

As I close this first note to you, allow me to request your ideas and suggestions for a more effective and better association. We are open to advice.

If Your Chapter Is Looking For A Project For This Year Why Not Try This Suggestion

If your chapter is looking for a project for next year, why not consider this one.

The estimated cost of constructing and furnishing a residence room in the new American Heritage and Alumni Center is $5,000. A brass plaque on the door would bear the name of the chapter.

If individuals wish to provide for the furnishings in such rooms that cost is estimated at $500. This latter prospect cannot be recognized with a plaque on the door, but it will be memorialized somewhere in the building. Some individuals and chapters have already indicated a desire to take responsibility for one or the other of the above projects.

Harding Alumni Celebrate 42nd Homecoming

Among alumni returning for homecoming activities were those who graduated 25 years ago, the class of '39.

Alumni registration started at 8:00 a.m. Wednesday. Alumni chapel was at 10:00 a.m. with a large number in attendance.

Those participating in the chapel program were Dr. R. T. Clark, chairman; singing was led by C. W. Bradley; scripture reading was by Dr. Jack Lewis; prayer was led by Dr. George Gurganus; class history was read by Dr. Norman Smith; entertainment was by Jon Farris, Jo Lee Thayer and Harding Burton, students; talk was by President George S. Benson; Alma Mater was led by L. O. Sanderson; and benediction was by Hobart Ashby.

Those from the class of '39 present were Annie May Alston librarian at the Graduate School in Memphis; Hobart Ashby, minister in St. Louis; Mrs. James O. Baird (Avanelle Elliott), wife of Dr. James O. Baird, president of Oklahoma Christian College; Mrs. George Beasley (Alice Anne Davis) of Memphis; Dr. R. T. Clark, chairman of the chapel program and vice-president in charge of research at Harding; Dr. George Gurganus, professor of Speech and Missions at the Graduate School in Memphis; Paul E. Miller, associate with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service who lives in Augusta; Mrs. Donald Mount (Theda Pinkston) a high school teacher who lives in Alamo, Tenn.; Jess Rhodes, a teacher at West Texas State College who lives in Canyon (His son, Jess Rhodes Jr. was among those graduating on May 28); Dr. Norman Smith, who lives in Pocahontas and is a physician; and Guy Thompson who is in the car-truck rental business and lives in Searcy. Others sent letters and biographical forms for the class history that was given in chapel.

Alumni were present from the classes of '29, '34, '44, '49, '54, and '59, each of these having a five-year reunion. Alumni were present from nearly all of the 38 classes that have graduated. Attendance at the reunion luncheon exceeded expectations and several had to be fed in the regular dining room at the Rendezvous. It is hoped that next year we will be in our own new dining hall where space will not be a problem.

The annual alumni luncheon on Thursday following graduation was attended by a large number of alumni, graduating seniors and their parents. Every available seat in the college dining hall was taken. For the second year we were unable to accomodate faculty members but this will be corrected with our new facilities.

Homecoming next year has been changed to June 2 and 3, which is one week later, hoping to avoid so many conflicts at commencement time and give more alumni opportunity to join friends for homecoming.
